

LEVEL I WHITE CRANE TAOIST YOGA & QI GONG COURSE

This training is a foundation for the unfoldment of 'The Jade Way: The Path of the Compassionate Heart'. It starts the facilitation for the student to accelerate their personal healing and evolution. This is achieved by working from the Level I of the human being's experience of being an embodied being. What is meant by this; you will be taught the way of energy firstly through the grounded security and safety that comes from learning to work consciously and in a structured way with the body's intelligence.

The beauty of this is that we ignite a conscious relationship with Mother Earth (nature) and revive the ancient wisdom of learning how to harmonize, cultivate, regulate, and ground our energetic being.

The consequences for healing are profound but also the foundation for conscious evolution is established giving a great basis for the heart and mind to open to the human being's spirit nature.

All this will be achieved through the specific White Crane Qi Gong Method and Taoist Yoga openings that are described in the syllabus below. (See The Taoist Perspective of the White Crane Qi Gong System below).

Lastly, within the course the group's experiences, according to individual consent, are shared and a gentle exploration of how to research the relationship between personal energetic cultivation and the application of it to relationship dynamics are engaged. This is the bridge to the evolutionary aspect of this practice and sets the seed for more advanced Level 2 work in the future for those who might wish to pursue that.

Help us bring these beautiful arts to humanity and join us if it's your calling. If you have any specific questions, please contact the school's Senior Instructor, Neal Traynor.

[Please note individual coaching and apprenticeship programs are available to interested parties who cannot attend this course.]

THE TAOIST PERSPECTIVE: THE WHITE CRANE SYSTEM

We will explore the Taoist perspective in a way that empowers the individual to move directly into their own inner-heart knowing.

The approach to Qi Gong that you will be taught is called 'The White Crane System of Qi Gong'. This method emphasis opening and moving the arms like wings in such a way that the focus of our awareness and feeling is heart-centred. It particularly awakens the energetics of our heart channel. It allows the person to gently learn to consciously feel their own energetic nature and, over time, penetrate into the compassionate inner heart self. This is a gentle, safe but powerful way to work with your qi (energy), enhancing healing and evolution at the same time.

This approach was bequeathed to humanity by the Buddhist Bodhisattva Guan Yin (the incarnation of compassion). This being is dedicated to lifting humanity out of suffering through the science of compassion. She helps us source the unadulterated compassionate essence of our own hearts. The specifics of the tools you will be taught can be seen in the syllabus.

INTRODUCTION

- Ethos
- The Jade Way: Path of the Compassionate Heart (What the Human Being Really is)
- White Crane Qi Gong

FOUNDATION: FUNDAMENTAL STANDING QI GONG

- Opening the Energy Gates through posture and breath
- Standing with the Self
- Standing Tree Qi Gong – feeling the self & activating the whole Qi [Energy] Field

OPENING THE ENERGY GATES THROUGH POSTURE AND BREATH

You will learn to align the Qi Field and gently start to open the main "Energy gates" of the body's meridian system. This is achieved through postural technique and by embracing the inner Mind/Heart technology of 'Letting Go'.

EFFECT: This practice improves overall Qi flow and the releasing of stagnation in the meridian system. Tension, anxiety and fatigue will start to dissipate.

STANDING WITH THE SELF

Grounding, harmonising, regulating, and consolidating the Qi Field through Taoist breath-work method of sinking qi and breath to the lower Dantien (Energy Centre). Now you are 'Standing with the Self'.

STANDING TREE QI GONG

Initiates the 'White Crane' method of opening the arms, activating the Heart Channels, feeling the self, and moving to whole-body breathing.

FUNDAMENTAL TAOIST YOGA

- Deeper Opening of the Energy Gates
- Learning to stretch in a way that moves energy (Inner principle of Daoist Yoga: Letting go through movement)

The learning here is to take our exploration of mind/heart letting go and apply it to actually pulling, pushing and stretching the energy channels to further and deepen the opening of the energy gates. The intent here is to relax/let go in an engaged, active way. It's more about opening and rotating than forcing or twisting, so we learn to stretch in a way that safely opens and moves energy.

Effect: This series of simple Taoist Yoga stretches heals but also prepares us for deeper internal (Nei Gong) work. It releases blockages and corrects misaligned or twisted pathways in the energy system. It's designed to connect the inner Nei Gong grid pathways of the White Crane system.

The above practice will enhance the capacity of nutritive Qi Gong practices (e.g. 5 Phase Standing Qi Gong) to bring fresh energy to weakened, depleted areas thus strengthening and rejuvenating the body.

Certain deeper healing practices cannot be attempted safely or successfully without this work e.g. Inner Dissolving Qi Gong/Inner Heart Nei Gong Meditation.

FUNDAMENTAL MOVING QI GONG

- Lao Gong Activation Qi Gong
- Fundamental Crane Qi Gong

- Fundamental Kua Qi Gong
- Fundamental Crane Qi Gong & Fundamental Kua Qi Gong
- Releasing Qi Gong (White Crane shakes off diseased energy)

LAO GONG ACTIVATION QI GONG

This practice is to open the heart centre of the hand (Lao Gong) so that we can learn to feel and reference qi movement from the inside out.

FUNDAMENTAL CRANE QI GONG

This involves moving from Standing Tree, pulling, pushing, sinking, rising and rotating the arms in a Crane-like manner.

EFFECT: This pumps qi through the channel system especially the 6 main channels of the arms. Internal Nei Gong channels and gates are also affected as this practice deepens. The result is this Qi Gong brings healing to the whole system bringing fresh qi to weak areas, removing stale qi and gently releasing blockages.

FUNDAMENTAL KUA QI GONG

Now we focus on the pelvic area and learn to energetically squat. This is called opening and closing the Kua. It includes movement of the legs and its main three joints (hip, knee and ankle). As a result there is continuous movement or pumping of the energy channels and gates of the lower body.

EFFECT: The lower Dantien energy centre is gently but powerfully pumped enhancing the movement of qi. Particular benefit comes to the lower organs and energy pathways (e.g. Urogenital and reproductive functions). As the sacral area and legs are pumped spinal/lumbar functions also benefit.

FUNDAMENTAL CRANE QI GONG & FUNDAMENTAL KUA QI GONG

Here we combine the above two learnings to complete the basic White Crane Qi Gong healing movement.

RELEASING QI GONG (WHITE CRANE SHAKES OFF DISEASED ENERGY)

Here we combine breath, movement and Crane Qi Gong technique to shake off/expel diseased energy through the main energy gates of the feet and hands.

INTERMEDIATE MOVING QI GONG

- The White Crane Method

THE WHITE CRANE METHOD

This is a simple Qi Gong movement to help learn, in a more focused way, the White Crane Qi Gong technique. It introduces us to the concept of spiralling energy. In nature energy moves most effectively and naturally in spirals. The White Crane method allows us to awaken this in our qi field enhancing our practice especially the pumping, releasing and expelling of diseased qi from the system.

INTERMEDIATE STANDING QI GONG

- Shoulder Releasing Qi Gong
- 5 Phase Qi Gong

SHOULDER RELEASING QI GONG

This is a simple preparation Qi Gong to open the shoulder channels for the demands of Standing Qi Gong training.

EFFECT: Excellent for releasing neck, shoulder and upper back stagnation.

5 PHASE QI GONG

Now we start our strength training. Standing Qi Gong's main purpose is tonification of the qi field including channel, gateways and internal organs. It is vital the channels are not only open but strong enough to be able to channel healthy qi deeper into the body and expel toxic qi out of the body. For example, if a channel is too weak it may not be able to release diseased energy from the body safely (we all intuitively know that if we are feeling weak we should not try to fast or detox heavily).

EFFECT: 5 Phase Standing Qi Gong strengthens, consolidates, harmonises and aligns the whole qi field. It particularly helps the connectivity in the central channel between the Lower, Middle and Upper Dantien centres. This prepares the person to work on deeper alchemical internal healing possibilities.

FUNDAMENTALS OF QI GONG MEDITATION

PHASE I: ACHIEVING PROFOUND STILLNESS

- Sitting Meditation

Here we apply the qi gong principles of openness and groundedness to Sitting, Standing, and Lying, the four main stances of the human posture. This connects us with a profound state of stillness and self-awareness.
